The NCNA DNP Council is soliciting abstracts for podium presentations or posters.

The 6th Annual DNP Education Symposium Implementation Science: Maximizing Innovation Opportunities

Date: Friday, October 25, 2019

Time: 9:00 am to 4:00 pm

Location: NOAH's of High Point in High Point, NC

Contact Hours TBD

The NCNA DNP Council strives to highlight the transformative leadership and impact of DNP prepared nurses across the state of NC in clinical practice, executive leadership, informatics, policy, education, and research.

This year's theme will focus on implementation science, specifically its challenges alongside counter strategies and practical approaches that support positive sustainable change.

DNP prepared nurses identify and implement best-practice approaches to improve outcomes, yet encounter a number of barriers. Implementation science investigates and addresses the major challenges that impede effective uptake, adoption, and sustainability of evidence-based innovations.

Abstracts should highlight actual or anticipated implementation issues, strategies and specific recommendations to overcome barriers. Submissions may be based on the following initiatives: Evidence Translation, Quality Improvement, Program Evaluation, Policy Development & Evaluation, Literature Review, or Needs Assessments. The written abstract (350-word limit) must identify the track for possible presentations and include one (1) desirable learning outcome.

Required content should be:

*Problem/Clinical Question

*Background Evidence

*Implementation Process/Methods

*Outcomes/Results

*Implications for Practice

Submission deadline is Friday, July 12, 2019 by 5pm.

All submissions will undergo blind, peer review.

Authors of accepted abstracts will be notified by August 9, 2019.

All abstract submissions should be submitted to: karenowens@ncnurses.org

All presenters must register for the DNP Symposium
